CHOOSING

BETTER PERFORMANCE, BETTER HANDLING, NO MATTER THE WEATHER CONDITIONS.

DIRECTIONAL

E-Z-GO Directional Tires, such as the Backlash tire, are designed with lateral grooves that create tires with a v-shaped tread pattern. This construction leads to better handling while driving especially through wet conditions.

YOUR TIRE

Knowing if your tire is directional or non-directional will affect the way that your tire is mounted on your golf car.

QUIETER DRIVE.
SYMMETRICAL TREAD.
LONGER LASTING.
EASY MOUNTING.

NON-DIRECTIONAL

E-Z-GO non-directional tires can be mounted and rotated amongst all four sides of the vehicle. With the ease of rotation, E-Z-GO non-directional tires are known to outlast other tire tread options.

RADIAL TIRES VS BIAS PLY TIRES

Radial and Bias tires refer to the method of which your tire was constructed. Both radial tires and bias tires are offered by E-Z-GO.

RADIAL

• LESS VIBRATION • GENERATES LESS HEAT
• FLEXIBILITY • GREAT RESPONSE TO IMPACTS

A radial tire will give you a smooth ride not effected by any obstacles on the road. The composition of the radial tires leads to a more flexible, strong tire that absorbs shocks, bumps and impacts as you drive.

BIAS

• GREAT CUT/PUNCTURE RESIRTANCE • THICKER SIDEWALLS
• RIDE STABILITY • LESS EXPENSIVE

Bias tires are known for their ability to achieve a superior ride comfort while still tackling the rough paths that your golf car might take. The construction of this tire leads to thicker sidewalls that add less cut resistance to your tire while offering better ride stability.
